How Cold? (at 750m)	3C rising toward 8C, particularly well inland. Will feel much colder directly in the wind.
Freezing Level	Above the summits.

Lake District - Looking Ahead

	Sunday 29 May	Monday 30 May
How windy? (On the summits)  Effect of wind on you?	Northerly, 15 to 25mph, typically strongest on fells furthest north and east.  Fairly small	Direction may well vary, mostly less than 15mph, perhaps calm on some summits. But locally gusts 25mph in precipitation.  Mostly negligible, although temporary sudden buffeting near precipitation in the afternoon.
How wet? (Precipitation and its impact)	Showers, mainly afternoon Risk of a few showers from dawn. From late morning or midday, a scattering of brief showers more widely, giving hail on higher tops. The rain least likely on western fells.	Areas of heavy precipitation developing Risk patches of rain from dawn, perhaps sleet on highest tops. Will deteriorate from later morning as showery rain becomes widespread and heavy with risk thunder. However, coastal fells may become dry again afternoon.
Cloud on the hills?  Chance of cloud free summits?	Very little  Cloud base mostly above the summits, but patches may graze highest tops now and again.  90%	Will come and go, sometimes very extensive and low  Considerable variation, particularly afternoon. Broadly, cloud base will rise from 550 to 800m (lowest near coast) after dawn to or above highest fells by late morning. But in rain, expect fog widely on higher slopes and in some areas on lower slopes  50%
Sunshine? Air clarity (below cloud)	Patchwork of sun, but cloud filling in by afternoon. Visibility excellent.	Patches of sunshine will tend to give way to occasional bursts of sun, although coasts and later further inland may well become sunny again. Often excellent visibility but poor in rain.
How Cold? (at 750m)  Freezing Level	3C rising to 7C. Wind chill will make it feel as cold as -5C on higher tops in the morning.  Above the summits.	5C.  Above the summits, but slight frost at first some valleys and upland dips.

Planning Outlook*All mountain areas of Britain from Sunday, 29 May, 2022

Relatively low temperatures on the mountains much of next week; particularly on the Scottish highlands where higher tops will frequently be near freezing point. Showers, some heavy and thundery, giving hail and on higher tops snow, will be widespread, particularly in the afternoons, when in some areas they will merge to give a few hours of precipitation.
